Did you know?

- 80% of compressor failures could have been prevented if the problems that led to the failure were corrected in a timely manner.
- A dirty evaporator, condenser or blower can increase a system's electrical usage by more than 50%.
- Just 1/100th inch of dirt or film on a coil can reduce a systems efficiency.
- Refrigerant or "freon" should never need to be replaced. If a system needs refrigerant added every year then there is an expensive leak that should be repaired.
- A 10% overcharge of refrigerant can increase operating costs by 20%.
- Down time of a refrigeration or HVAC system can be most costly to a business in lost revenue or product.
- Depending on the current condition of the equipment, a thorough preventative maintenance service can pay for itself several times over in energy savings alone.
